

The MFM Award

Or What Happens When You Don't Do Your Homework

By Steve Robinson

You might have noticed the group (on occasion) has a somewhat twisted & occasionally scathing sense of humour & part of that is the MFM award or to give it, it's full title the 'My Fok Marelize' Award.

Marelize is the young lady on the bicycle in the video below & the reason she rode into the rugby post was that she wasn't looking where she was going & not planning ahead to avoid the problem & falling off the bicycle as a consequence..... And the award is an analogy of what happens when people do the same thing by not reading the files in a timely manner and/or leaving everything to the last minute in the hope someone will put it right for them.

Your move to Portugal is a life changing event & in some cases a life saving event so PLEASE take the trouble to visit the files, look in the Info Piece Index, make note of the titles that apply to your particular situation & then READ THEM CAREFULLY well before you move because there's no point in leaving it until the last minute & then expect someone else to pull your fat out of the fire for you as it'll probably be far too late by then.

If you don't do your own research for your own particular situation then you will end up shooting yourself in your own foot.

Oh & look out for the Marmite jokes as well! Lol!

DON'T EXPECT TO BE SPOON FED INFORMATION

BECAUSE THAT JUST ISN'T GOING TO HAPPEN. YOU NEED TO. LOOK IN THE FILES YOURSELF
